Dear Friend:

It is a great pleasure to forward to you our recently completed study of the University of Michigan Law School's Class of 1955. As you know, this study was based on questionnaires distributed to members of the Class and returned by them to the School. We are grateful to the Class for its cooperation. Of 199 questionnaires mailed to Class members, 160 were completed and returned. By any standards, this is a remarkable record.

I believe that you will find the study interesting and revealing. I think also it will be the source of additional pride in your Class and the School; for the report constitutes a record of service and achievement. We believe that it contributes significant information to the study of the American legal profession and the role of the University of Michigan Law School in training for the profession.

We thank you for your assistance and cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Francis A. Allen
Dean
