Constitution and By-Laws

THE LAWYERS CLUB of the University of Michigan was founded in 1922 by Mr. William W. Cook of the New York bar, without a formal charter. Thereafter, in 1923-1924 he erected the first building as a center for its activities and named it The Lawyers Club. This building was put into use for the first time in the fall of 1924. In 1930 Mr. Cook added a second building, which he named the John P. Cook Building, in memory of his father.

The property used by the Club in its activities is vested in the Regents of the University of Michigan in trust. Its management, and the management of the Club generally, are vested in a Board of Governors. It is stipulated in the instrument of gift that "going prices shall be charged for room and board" and that members of the Club, whether residing in the building or not, shall be charged annual dues to be fixed by the Board of Governors. It is also stipulated that all membership dues and all profits derived from the operation of the Club buildings "shall be used exclusively for legal research, to be expended from time to time as the governors deem best."

The Board of Governors, as it was originally constituted by Mr. Cook, consisted of the Dean of the law faculty, ex officio, who was to be President of the Board, and four members of the law faculty, who were to be chosen by the Regents of the University of Michigan.
In 1925, with the consent of the donor, the Board of Governors was reconstituted to consist of the Chief Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, one Regent, two members of the law faculty, two practicing lawyers, and two law students. In 1926 there were added, likewise with the consent of the donor, one elected member of the Supreme Court of Michigan and the President of the University of Michigan.

In 1932 the Board of Governors of The Lawyers Club filed the following Articles of Incorporation and was granted a corporate charter under the General Laws of Michigan.
