*Due to change in accounting systems, the principal columns illustrated under 1967 represent thirteen months of receipts. To provide a more accurate comparison with the previous 12-month receipt years, the black lines adjacent to the 1967 columns show the collections during the twelve months of 1967: $210,774.55, 3,458 gifts, 22.6% increase.
Dear Dean Allen:

I am certain that all the members of the 1967 Michigan Law School Fund “team” have such heartwarming memories of, and high regard for, the Law School that the job of fund-raising for this campaign has been a pleasant task, and not a burdensome chore. The results demonstrate that this “labor of love” has borne much fruit.

This year, as in each preceding year, we raised more money than the year before from an increased number of contributions. During the calendar year 1967 the Fund received $210,774.55 from 3,458 contributions. This represents 111 additional contributions, and a 22.6% increase over the amount raised in 1966.

As you know, in 1967 the Law School Fund National Committee determined to change the annual campaign termination date from December 31 to January 31 of the following year. Thus, for the 15 month period of this “adjustment” year the Law School Fund receipts were $225,470.80, but this figure cannot be compared with that of past or future campaign years.

It was just six years ago, in 1961, the first year of the Law School Fund, that we raised only $49,663 with 1198 contributions. This is substantial evidence of the enthusiastic and increasing support that our alumni and friends are giving to the Law School.

The credit and thanks for this success, as in prior years, goes to the entire team, 625 regional chairmen, local chairmen, solicitors, and class agents, who helped organize the campaign and raise the money. The names of many of these workers appear throughout the pages of this report.

We are confident that you and the members of the Law School faculty who are responsible for the administration and disbursement of the funds which we have raised will do so in the highest and best interests of the Law School. The Law School of The University of Michigan has always maintained a position of leadership and excellence in its faculty, its student body, its research, and its physical plant and facilities; and I know that I speak for the entire body of Law School Fund contributors in saying that we are anxious that you maintain that position. We hope that the moneys which the 1967 Law School Fund has provided will assist in achieving this objective.

I have considered it a personal privilege and pleasure to serve as 1967 National Chairman. This has been an opportunity to repay to the University of Michigan Law School, in some small measure, a debt for the pleasant and profitable year I spent in its halls.

Cordially yours,

Benjamin M. Quigg, Jr.
National Chairman

Dear Ben:

The success of the Law School Fund under your splendid leadership constitutes a record of achievement in which we all take great pride. The faculty and staff view the efforts of the Law School Fund organization and the generous support of the alumni and friends, as an impressive vote of confidence in the University of Michigan Law School, and as the expression of a resolve that the distinction of the School shall be maintained and advanced in the years ahead. The faculty and administration of the School fully share this resolve. We are sincerely grateful to all who contributed in any way to the Law School Fund campaign.

Maintaining the leadership of the University of Michigan Law School demands the investment of large resources of energy, thought, ingenuity, and money. It is a cooperative enterprise requiring contributions from a large number of groups and individuals—the alumni, the faculty, the students, the University administration. Moreover, the nature of the task of insuring excellence is changing as the world of which the School is a part changes. The School today is confronted by demands for instruction, scholarship, and public service, not contemplated as recently as a decade ago. The role of private giving has always been important. Today its contribution is indispensable if the School is to perform its mission in the manner we all desire and expect.

The record made in the campaign just ended and the steady development of the Fund since its inauguration in 1961 are a source of gratification to me. It represents not only a gesture of good will for those who enjoyed the advantages of legal education at Michigan, but a demonstration of a realistic awareness by the friends and alumni of the School of what is required to insure the continuing distinction of the School in today’s difficult and competitive world of higher education.

We at the School again pledge our best efforts to justify the confidence and support of those who participated in past campaigns of the Law School Fund and who will support this effort in the future.

Sincerely,

Francis A. Allen
Dean
Reading ....... Between the Sheets

We try, but it’s hard to make the lists of facts, statistics, numbers, names, etc., in our report look like anything but other lists of facts, statistics, etc., etc. Since a few of you may be too busy to make your own detailed analysis we shall try to point out a few noteworthy conclusions, and we shall add a few comparisons that are not observable without access to the facts and figures from previous years.

First, you should be reminded that the fiscal year for the Fund has been officially changed! It will now commence on February 1 each year (instead of January 1) and run through the following January 31. Since 1967 was the transition year, the past campaign ran for thirteen months instead of twelve, and the total figures reported are for this extended period.

However, the comparable twelve-month figures were very good, and we want to report them to you. During the twelve months of 1967 we received a total of 3,458 gifts, (111 more than 1966), and total contributions were $210,774.55—a whopping 22.6% increase over the previous year. For the total period of the 1967 campaign—13 months—total gifts were 3,883 (up 16% over 1966) and total contributions were $225,470.80 (a 31.1% increase). You can be very proud, and we are extremely grateful.

Another measure of success of any program such as the Law School Fund is the percentage of participation by those potentially eligible to do so. This is a difficult figure to work with because it is almost impossible to KNOW how many alumni we have at any one time. You are part of an extremely mobile group, and we sometimes feel that we are the last to know when you change your address. Unless we get the word, you may be “lost” for a period of time. And, of course, to whatever figures we use as a base, we know there will be deletions and additions during the course of the year because of deaths and new graduates.

Nevertheless, we do the best we can, and we can actually count the alumni and non-alumni who do contribute.

During the 1967 campaign we received gifts from 3,121 alumni, (compared to 2,837 in 1966) and from 305 non-alumni (compared to 151 a year ago). The increase in percentage of participating alumni is not as spectacular as it would appear, because by diligent and imaginative detective work the office staff increased our total of “good” addresses and known alumni from approximately 8,700 to 9,200. But even in relation to this expanded base the figure inched forward from 32.6% in 1966 to 34.7% in 1967. We hope you keep it moving, because the ultimate strength of the Law School Fund, and of the Law School in its relationships with the alumni in a variety of ways, depends to a large extent on having the broadest possible base of participants.

A word about the gifts from non-alumni. Many are sent as memorial gifts (see details in another part of the report), and a substantial number are from companies with “matching gift” programs. A few other very substantial gifts come through charitable foundations and trusts where our alumni have a role in advising the directors or trustees, and from time to time we receive a gift from an alumnus’ individual client who wishes to make a charitable contribution, and on advice of the alumnus considers the Law School Fund a worthy recipient. Perhaps you, too, represent a foundation, a trust or other client that would appreciate knowing more about the Law School Fund.

We have a statement about the relationship between the Law School Fund and the $55 Million Program elsewhere in this report.

Since the campaign now has been extended through January to accommodate the end-of-the-year “givers,” the extra list of the names of January donors has been omitted.

The Class of 1963 inched ahead of its nearest competitors to lead the “largest number of contributors” category. Although 1948, the leader for the preceding two years, stayed among the leaders in third place, the others in the first five—Classes of 1949, 1952 and 1958—were newcomers in the winners’ circle. There was virtually a whole new alignment of classes contributing the most dollars, and six classes contributed more money in 1967 than the winning total for 1966. In the important category of percentage of contributors, David Nixon led the Class of 1958 from a 31% participation figure in 1966 to 43% in 1967 and first place. En route he added 24 contributors and more than $1,600 to the class total.

Arthur Greene, Jr., succeeded in closing the gap by 50% in New Hampshire, and came within one person of 100% participation for his entire state. Will he go all the way in 1968? Check here next year for the answer to this important question.

Our Regions vary greatly in size, total population, and density. Comparisons are difficult. In addition, in 1967 Region XIV was created from parts of three other Regions. However, after making suitable adjustments for this change, in 1967 there were a greater number of gifts from eleven of fourteen Regions. Only Regions V (Indiana), VIII (Western states, except California, plus Alaska) and XII (Western and Northern Michigan) slipped just a little. Twelve of the fourteen regions, including Region XII, contributed more money in 1967 than in 1966. Perhaps special recognition should be given to Masanori Kushi in Region XIII (Hawaii) and to Ray Potter in Region X (Wayne County, Michigan). Region XIII more than doubled the number of gifts in 1967 and increased the total dollars by 64%.

Since Region X has always been the money leader, a substantial gain is hard to produce, but let history show that in 1967 there were 46 more gifts than in 1966 and total contributions exceeded the previous high mark ($46,207.98 in 1965) by more than $14,000.

In other boxes we have singled out geographical areas with a chairman in charge, some with 20 or more alumni, and some with less, in which the percentage of participation was high. Within our flexible pattern of organization these areas range from whole states to single cities, but it is clear that in each area the chairman had his team well organized.

Once again we are showing some shots of your hard-working National Committee taken during the annual meetings, June 1, 1968, and, with the exception of a few who are apparently camera or publicity shy, we have printed pictures of the 1967 Regional Chairmen.

$55 Million Program and the Law School Fund

As most of you know, in recent years there have been two major money-raising campaigns conducted within the University soliciting your support. One, of course, has been the Law School Fund, our annual giving program, which started in 1961, and has had a history of continuous operation and growth since then. In addition, the University hoped that on the occasion of the Sesquicentennial, alumni would dig deeper and make a once-in-a-lifetime gift to the University that would permit it to do some of the important things which were waiting in the wings. This resulted in the $55 Million Program from 1965 through 1967.

Numerous Law School alumni contributed to and helped with both campaigns. Others thought that their time or resources should be channeled into a single fund. Contributors to the $55 Million Program could, and many did, designate that their gifts be used for some Law School purpose. Since these latter gifts, as well as your gifts to the Law School Fund, are in response to your loyalty and regard for the Law School, and in recognition of its need for financial assistance in providing the “extras of excellence” to keep Michigan as a leader in legal education, we want to publicly acknowledge these gifts and to express our sincere appreciation for them.

The variety of “purposes” for which these gifts to $55M were designated are indicative of the scope of the School’s present program and of the wide range of interests of our alumni. These designated purposes included substantial support for several research projects; financial aid for students in the form of loan funds, scholarships and prizes; endowments for professorial chairs; creation of a Foreign and Comparative Law Institute; and the funding of a long-range program dealing with the interrelationships of law and economic policy. Still other gifts were designated for the Institute for Continuing Legal Education; for the founding and initial support of a new student review entitled “Prospectus: A Journal of Law Reform”; law library needs; the building needs of the School; support for various student activities such as the Case Clubs and our National Moot Court team; law student recruitment, and the making of a series of student advocacy films showing various tactics and techniques at every stage of a civil case. The largest group of Law School alumni (218) simply indicated that their gifts to the $55 Million Program were to be used by the Law School as directed by the Dean and Faculty.

The names of our many alumni who gave financial support to the Law School through the $55 Million Program are set on page 24.

We have also listed the estates of a few deceased alumni through whose wills the School benefitted during the time period covered by $55M, and the names of a few non-alumni who made direct contributions to the $55 Million fund for some of the Law School purposes listed above. And, although space limitations prevent printing their names, it should be noted that some 900 Law School alumni (some of whom also contributed to the Law School Fund) made gifts through the $55 Million Program for the general support of the University and for a variety of important non-law purposes. This is a wonderful demonstration of undivided loyalty and non-partisan support for the University of Michigan.

The Team

Frequent references are made in this report and in various communications to the “team.” It occurred to us that many of you who have been working hard on the local campaigns or have not yet served on this august body would like to know a bit more about its make-up. There are three basic groups—the multi-level geographic organizations, the class agents, and the National Committee (which includes a number of chairmen and class agents from the two previous groups). The names of the area chairmen and class agents are shown in the two summaries of their production. Unfortunately, we do not always receive the names of all of the local solicitors, and we do not have the room to print the names of those we have, but there are literally hundreds of these wonderful people without whom the Fund would be far less successful. It may surprise you (it did us when we stopped to count) that the identified members of this team numbered 625. Wow! To each of these hard working helpers (as well as those whose names we do not have) we give our special “thanks.” (Incidentally, if you want to “try out” for the team, send your name to Ann Arbor and we’ll turn it over to the coach.)

Corporate Matching Gift Program

Do you work for a company that has a matching gift program? If you do, your gift to the Law School Fund can be matched dollar for dollar by your company. All you need to do is obtain a matching gift form from your employer, fill it out and send it to us with your donation to the Law School Fund. It will be processed here, returned to the Law School Fund. It will become doubly valuable.
