2017 AFRICAN AMERICAN ALUMNI REUNION

Join Us
Greetings!

Please join us as we celebrate the history of diversity at the Law School with the second African American Alumni Reunion, which will be held March 24–26, 2017. In addition, the 39th Annual Alden J. "Butch" Carpenter Memorial Scholarship Fund Gala will take place on Saturday, March 25. With excitement steadily building, it promises to be a sensational weekend.
As you know, Michigan Law is an extraordinary place. Not only is there a strong sense of community that pervades the student body, but there also is a lifelong affiliation that alumni feel for both the Law School and for each other. The efforts of our alumni set Michigan Law apart from its peers and ensure that it continues to be one of the world’s best law schools.

One of the goals of the reunion is to improve and support recruitment and matriculation of black students through outreach and mentoring. Because of which, we strategically planned the reunion to occur when the Butch Carpenter Gala would be taking place, and when newly admitted students would be visiting campus. Being able to bring students and alumni together to foster professional connections and learn from each other will greatly benefit all who attend.

It is our hope that as our outstanding alumni gather to celebrate this special occasion, they also take a moment to give back to the institution and our efforts to collectively support past, present, and future Michigan Law students.

We hope you will join us for the African American Alumni Reunion and the 39th Annual Alden J. “Butch” Carpenter Memorial Scholarship Fund Gala, as your involvement is vital in making the weekend a success. On behalf of all Black Law Students Association (BLSA) members and the entire African American Alumni Reunion committee, we look forward to seeing you in March.

Sincerely,

Reengage African American alumni with the Law School and each other.

Celebrate the legacy of Michigan Law’s African American alumni community.

Recognize the importance of alumni-funded scholarships and lay the foundation for increased support for African American students.

Improve and support recruitment and matriculation of African American students through outreach and mentoring.
• Before the passage of Proposal 2 ("the Michigan Civil Rights Initiative") in 2006, the average number of African American students in each Michigan Law class was 25 to 30. It now averages 15 to 18.

• In a race-blind admissions process, most African American students we admit are choosing among the best and most appealing schools in the nation. Because of that increased competition, we lose more of our admits than we did prior to Proposal 2. Scholarships can make the difference in recruiting top talent and getting students who aren't familiar with Michigan, and Ann Arbor, to look at us seriously.

• With such a small African American student population at Michigan Law, recruiting even two or three admitted students away from another school could make a significant difference.

• An uptick in African American applications to the Law School for the Class of 2019 shows that momentum is building and that our efforts do make a difference.
ALDEN J. “BUTCH” CARPENTER

Alden J. “Butch” Carpenter was born in Flint, Michigan, and graduated from Flint Southwestern High School. He received a scholarship to the University of Michigan, where he excelled as a student and as a Division I football player. For three years, Butch started as a defensive end for the University and was co-captain of an undefeated team.

After graduation, Butch worked in Detroit briefly before returning to Ann Arbor to matriculate at Michigan Law. There he demonstrated the same leadership skills, aptitude, and commitment that marked his stellar undergraduate academic and athletic careers. Additionally, his natural gifts made Butch an effective advocate for social justice. As a member of the Michigan Law community, Butch was dedicated to the survival and growth of economically depressed communities, believing that the development of such communities was greatly dependent upon the leadership and skills of business persons and lawyers. Those acquainted with him were impressed with his enthusiastic spirit and his singular, driven purpose to use his professional talents for the benefit of urban communities.

Butch collapsed while playing basketball and died on February 2, 1978. He was 28. To some, his untimely death meant the loss of a fine athlete; to others, it was the loss of a future legal star. But to all, his death meant the loss of a great man.

In 1999, Alden J. “Butch” Carpenter was inducted into the Greater Flint Afro-American Hall of Fame with the following headline: “Alden ‘Butch’ Carpenter made his mark in Flint’s sports history. Gone but not forgotten.”
THE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

On February 21, 1978, the Black Law Students Alliance (BLSA) at Michigan Law voted unanimously to honor the memory of Butch’s generous and enthusiastic spirit by establishing the Alden J. “Butch” Carpenter Memorial Scholarship Fund. The fund’s purpose is to promote the attributes exemplified by Butch, and to motivate law students toward the high level of social commitment that he demonstrated. Each year, BLSA hosts a memorial banquet to raise money for the fund and to reflect upon the principles that Butch personified. As a part of the annual banquet, the fund awards scholarships to outstanding first-year BLSA-member law students who have demonstrated commitment to combining business and law to promote community development. In 2016, the fund awarded a total of $40,000 in scholarships to three deserving students.

THE SCHOLARSHIP’S IMPACT

“The value of the Alden J. ‘Butch’ Carpenter Memorial Scholarship cannot be solely measured by the financial gift it provides to students. The history of the man for which the scholarship is named challenges the award recipients to represent Butch’s ideal of giving back in their professional lives. I have been motivated by the scholarship awardees who came before me and further encouraged by those who won even after I graduated MLaw. I try to embody that ideal even in private practice by being involved in recruitment and hiring as well as diversity/inclusion initiatives. The Butch Carpenter Banquet may occur on one day of the year, but it continues to touch and affect the lives of its scholarship recipients, and those they are dedicated to aiding through their work, each and every day. I am proud and honored to be a part of that living history.”

– Ian R.D. Labitue, ’08
“I had the privilege of attending the inaugural Michigan Law African American Alumni Reunion and have been looking forward to the next reunion ever since. It was a great opportunity to reconnect with former classmates and meet other alums whom I hadn’t met before. Most importantly, I heard firsthand about the challenges that the Law School faces and the numerous efforts that the School is making to continue being the best in class. I also gained a better understanding of what alums can do to participate and to meaningfully contribute to the Law School. I implore all of my fellow alums to continue being involved and to join us in March!”

ALDEN J. "BUTCH" CARPENTER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Alden J. "Butch" Carpenter Memorial Scholarship is awarded each year to first-year Michigan Law students who are members of the Black Law Students Association (BLSA) and exemplify its namesake’s ideals.

Alden J. "Butch" Carpenter entered the University of Michigan Law School in 1977, with the desire to become an advocate for the urban community by using his professional skills in business and law for its benefit and edification. Since February 21, 1978, BLSA has continued to promote Mr. Carpenter’s vision through the Alden J. "Butch" Carpenter Memorial Scholarship Fund. BLSA established the award “to promote the attributes exemplified by (Carpenter’s) life and to motivate the social commitment demonstrated by his professional objectives.” In 2016, the Fund awarded a total of $40,000 in scholarships to three deserving students.

You may designate your gift on the enclosed form or give online at www.law.umich.edu/giving/carpenter.
