The University of Michigan Law School

“I trust that this gift of my residuary estate [to the U of M Law School] may cause others to realize that the University can no longer be extended in its main developments by state taxation alone, and that if its standards of scholarship and mental discipline, and its service to the state and nation, are to be maintained and advanced, they should be generous in their financial support. That University is and should be the pride of the State of Michigan.”

William W. Cook, 1882

The more things change, the more they stay the same.

Since the 1920s, when William Wilson Cook made his legendary gifts to fund the construction of the Law Quadrangle and establish an endowment for faculty research, our student body has nearly tripled in size. The Michigan Law campus is now entirely wireless — a remarkable change that has occurred only in the past five years. Though Michigan has always been a large, national law school — as well as a pioneer in international legal education — we continue to expand our reach. Numbered among the top law schools in the world, we currently welcome students from all corners of the globe and enjoy a vibrant network of alumni spread across 50 states and throughout 73 foreign nations. As state support has dwindled, tuition rates have risen to 240 times their 1933 level (when it cost only $138 per year to attend!). And in May 2004, we publicly launched the most significant fund raising effort in the Law School's history — a $135 million capital campaign to finance facilities renovations, increase student and faculty support, and raise the level of annual giving.

Yet every September, our incoming students experience the magnificence of the Law Quadrangle for the first time, feeling the same awe and wonderment that we felt when we were new to the Quad. Each May, a fresh crop of Law School graduates leaves the cloister of the Quadrangle, venturing into the wide world with the knowledge and tools to make a lasting impact. Fall brings Law School reunions, when alumni return to Ann Arbor to reconnect with classmates, relive Law School memories, and root for the Maize and Blue. And season after season, year after year, members of the Law School community continue to amaze us with extraordinary gifts of time, talent, and treasure.

Thank you, alumni and friends, for the ever-changing ways you demonstrate your loyalty and generosity, and for the fundamental ways in which your constancy sustains us.

Cavædium Society

The Cavædium Society provides recognition to donors making a gift of $2,500 or greater to the Law School Fund. Cavædium is a Latin geometric term denoting the inner core of a quadrangle. Donors honored here have provided a significant portion of the unrestricted support received by the Law School. These individuals are, therefore, at the center of the School's efforts to sustain a superb institution. Founding members are noted with a ❖ for participation in the initial year, 2003.

Students

The majority of the students listed participated in the Third-Year Challenge, a program in which students make a three-year pledge to the Law School Fund. To encourage this commitment, which begins the year following graduation, John M. Nannes, '73, contributes $250 per pledge to the student organization selected by each participant. In the past year, one hundred students made pledges to the Law School Fund and were rewarded with $25,000 for student organizations.

Graduates, friends, law firms, foundations and corporations have established in excess of $208,800,000 within the endowment of the University of Michigan. These dollars support the Law School, in perpetuity, through annual distributions of approximately five percent of the fair market value of each fund over a three-year rolling average. Those in whose name these funds were created are listed herein. The "Cook Endowment," which supports the work of our faculty, is not included in this list as it is held by an independent trustee outside the control of the University.

The Report of Giving recognizes the contributions of financial resources to the University of Michigan Law School. Additionally, countless individuals give a significant amount of time and talent to the School. We would like to acknowledge all of these contributions and let you know how much the Law School values volunteer commitment to the mission of this institution.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this report, and the inclusion of each donor who supported the School financially during the 2004 – 2005 fiscal year. If your name is misspelled, omitted, or incorrectly listed, we sincerely apologize. Please contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations so that corrections can be made in future publications and in our records. Information on deceased alumni is current as of October 15, 2005.

The University of Michigan, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action, including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.
