A. B. A. OFFERS AID IN WAR ON POVERTY:

The American Bar Association is offering strong support to federal War on Poverty programs aimed at expanding legal services for the poor. The programs are designed to "utilize to the maximum extent deemed feasible the experience and facilities of the organized bar, such as legal aid, legal defender, and lawyer referral." These legal services are "to be performed by lawyers in accordance with ethical standards of the legal profession." The A.B.A., like the Office of Economic Opportunity, will attempt to effectuate its goals through a variety of programs within these limits.

In other action, the A.B.A. has endorsed a proposed Constitutional amendment to allow one house of a state's legislature to be elected on a basis other than population; come out for a law making it a federal crime to kill, attempt to kill, assault or kidnap the President; and come out in favor of amending the Internal Revenue Code to allow corporate tax benefits to "professional corporations."

EDITORS WASTEBASKET:

Students are reminded that on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 22-24, Chief Justice Roger J. Traynor of the California Supreme Court will be on campus. On Monday and Tuesday, Justice Traynor will meet informally with students as a "Scholar in residence." Students are asked to sign up in advance, with Kevin Beattie, for the various seminars scheduled on Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday he will join with U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart, U.S. Circuit Court Judge Paul R. Hays and others to judge the final round of the Campbell Competition. Justice Traynor's schedule for Monday and Tuesday is posted.

Former Dean of the Law School, E. Blythe Stason was recently honored by the Fellows of the American Bar Foundation for "outstanding research by an individual in law and government." Stason is a former administrator of the foundation.

QUADSVILLE QUOTES

So she went into the garden to cut a cabbage leaf to make an apple pie; and at the same time a great she-bear coming up the street pops its head into the shop. "What! no soap?" So he died, and she very imprudently married the barber; and there were present the Picninnies, and the Joblillies, and the Garyulies, and the Grand Panjandrum himself, . . . and they all fell to playing the game of catch as catch can, til the gunpowder ran out at the heels of their boots.
