FACULTY CHANGES FOR NEXT YEAR:

The administration reports that a number of familiar faces will be absent from the faculty ranks next year; and also that many new and some returning professors will be appearing on campus. Professor Allen will be leaving to return to the University of Chicago, where he has been named to the post of University Professor.

Professor Kimball will be away for the entire year. He will be in Germany most of the time and will be researching insurance law in western Europe. Professor Reed will be a visiting professor at Yale. On leave during the Fall semester only will be Professor Estep. His activities will include attendance at an international convention meeting to discuss problems relating to communications satellites.

Professors Oppenheim, Kadish and Gray will be gone during the spring semester. Professor Oppenheim will be completing a book. Professor Kadish will be a visiting professor at the University of California at Berkeley and Professor Gray will be in Hong Kong. Professor Harvey is extending his current leave to continue as Dean of the law school in Ghana.

Three faculty members presently on leave plan to return. Professors George, Stein and Russell Smith will again be with us in September. In addition, Mr. Beverley Pooley, who is currently an instructor in the P and R program, has been appointed to the post of Assistant Professor. He will be working with Professor Coffey, and will eventually take over supervision of the library after Professor Coffey's retirement.

There will be seven visiting professors in the quad next year. Mr. Angus Campbell will be here in the fall and will work with Professor Conard in a seminar entitled The Quantitative Analysis of Legal Problems. Mr. Campbell is presently Director of the University of Michigan Survey Research Center. Professor John P. Dawson, of the Harvard Law School Faculty, will also be a visiting professor in the fall. Professor Dawson is a former member of the faculty here. He will be teaching Contracts and Introduction to the Legal System.

With us for the entire year will be Professors John Cribbett of the University of Illinois, Herman Trautman of Vanderbilt, and Judge Hans Rupp of the German Constitutional Court. Cribbett will teach freshman Property and also a property seminar. Trautman will be involved in Evidence, Tax I and a course in Estate Tax Planning. Judge Rupp will work with Professor Kauper in a seminar on Comparative Constitutional Law and will also participate in other courses of comparative law.

During the spring semester, Professor Morris Shonker of Western Reserve will be handling Bills and Notes and Securities. Visiting in Practice and Procedure will be Professor George Fraser of the University of Oklahoma law faculty.

It was also announced that because Professor Allen will no longer be here and Professor Kadish will be on leave next spring, there will only be three sections of Criminal Law next year. Dean Proffitt will be taking over one section. Professors George and DeVine will handle the others.

The Case Clubs of the Law School are happy to announce the appointment of the following six Juniors to the National Moot Court Team: Barry Boughton, Frank Hartman, Bob Kroenert, Michael Maine, Steve Roberts and Steve Wittenberg. The two teams finishing highest in the Regional Competition will then go on to the National Competition held next December in New York.

EDITOR'S WASTEBASKET:

Some interesting facts recently came down from the Placement Office regarding Seniors who had accepted positions. Ray Zipsa proved that landing a good job doesn't always depend on grades. Even though Ray was fifth from the bottom of the class, he got a position on Wall Street starting at $10,200. per year. He will be with the firm of Zipsa, Zipsa, Scheyester and Zipsa.

Cye Taitir, one of our more distinguished students, will join the firm of Black, Aiker and Sizen. He will spend most of the next five to ten years "Shepardizing" past issues of Playboy.
