21 ELECTED TO THE ORDER OF THE COIF

The faculty has announced the election of 27 members of the August, February, and June graduating classes into the Order of the Coif: Martin Jerome Adelman, Walter Robert Allan, Stephen Bard, Robert Arthur Butler, Peter Dennis Byrnes, Christopher Cobb, David Greer Davies, Jerry Allan Fullmer, David Clinton Griffith, David Gower Hill, Michael Murray Hughes, Amalya Lyle Kearse, David King Kroll, Frederick Heins Miller, Richard Adolph Miller, William Richard Nicholas, Richard William Odgers, Henry J. Price, Jerome Morton Salle, Timothy Francis Scanlon, Joseph Junior Schneider, Donald Allen Slichter, William Delbert Van Tilburg, Charles Edward Voltz, Robert Bruce Wessling, James Justesen White and Ralph Lytton Wright.

These men have been selected from the top 10% of their graduating classes to be members of the most ancient of all honor societies. The Order of the Coif originated in thirteenth century England as a select group of jurists, from which body all the judges were chosen. At initiation each member was awarded a coif, a tight fitting cap, which was worn at all times, even in the presence of royal personages.

Today The Order of the Coif is the national law school honor society. It is dedicated to the encouragement of legal scholarship and the advancement of the ethical standards of the legal profession. Each spring the faculty elects and initiates the new members.

BARRISTERS TAP 10 JUNIORS

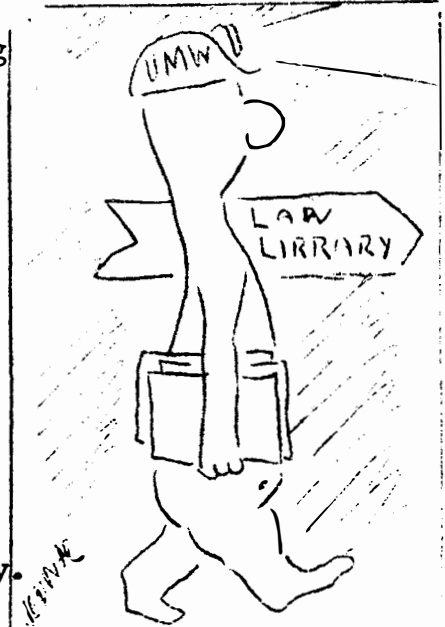

The Barristers Society, an honorary dedicated to just about anything, recently reaped their spring harvest. Each year the Barristers tap ten members of the junior class who have distinguished themselves on the Law Review or in the Case Clubs and who have made other contributions of service to the Law School. Next fall these newly elected members will then choose a further group from their own class. Those juniors now wearing the string tie are: Tony Benton, John Galanis, Jerry Gerlein, Herb Snyder, Dave Serotkin, Phil Wood, Pete Williamson, Gil Miller, Don Vacin, and Tom Van Dyke.

"OH, THE MOONLIGHT'S FAIR TONIGHT. . ."

For the past several years there has been a great deal of criticism of the lighting in the Law Library. One law student even induced his wife to write a letter to the editor of our competitor . . . (the Michigan Daily) complaining of this problem. The wiring in the library cannot handle a greater drag on the current. A new policy of keeping the hanging chandeliers lighted would remedy the problem to some extent.

WHAT WE NEED IS A BOY'S BAND

When POOL came to River City there was trouble (spelled TROUBLE). But pool has now come to the Lawyers Club, and there is great rejoicing. As a subsidiary of the Law Club Store a pool table has been installed in the basement of the Lawyers Club. This table is a commercial enterprise. It has cost the Lawyers Club nothing, and the Lawyers Club gets none of the income. The management of the Store has taken all of the responsibility. If this game is to remain it must be kept in good condition. The manager requests that no Coke bottles or cigarettes be left on the edge of the table, not to mention on the felt tabletop itself. If foreign matter is placed in the pockets they do not remain true, and if this detritus falls into the works of the table its removal is an expensive and time consuming operation.

The pool table was installed with the full approval of the Board of Directors. The city and state statutes have been searched and all has been found legal. The admissions office reports that one application was signed "Fast Eddie".

LIBRARY HOURS SUBJECT OF STUDY

There has been much talk about the library hours as well as about the lighting. Many students feel that the library should be open on Sunday evenings. Because of the employee problem, this is impossible unless some other period is relinquished. Unless there is overwhelming student desire, the policy will remain the same. So again Res Gestae conducts an opinion poll. The two possibilities of periods to relinquish would be Friday evenings or Saturday afternoon. Review this problem carefully, fill out the questionnaire in this issue and place it in the box provided.

THE GREAT MAGAZINE MYSTERY

The Lawyers Club maintains a magazine library. New magazines are placed on the shelves as soon as they arrive. They don't stay there long. This library should be treated just as any other library. The magazines are to be kept in the lounge room. They should be returned to the shelves when they are not in use.

THE DARTING DELTS

Saturday night the Delts will have a hi-fi party with some cool twist music--and then on the 17th there will be a double-header (stolen term) mit green--(we can't print the word). Watch next week's Res Gestae.
