FIRST IMPRESSIONS
The Online Companion of the Michigan Law Review

Call for Submissions

The editors of the Michigan Law Review invite essay submissions on current areas of legal thought and research for First Impressions, our online publication.

First Impressions publishes op-ed style articles by academics, judges, practitioners, and law students, as well as timely responses to articles in the print journal of the Michigan Law Review. Our online companion quickly disseminates the legal community's initial impressions of important judicial decisions and legislative developments.

First Impressions prefers submissions under 3,000 words and cannot accept essays over 3,500 words. Submissions should be written in a style accessible to a general audience of practitioners and policymakers. Pieces will be published on an expedited production schedule.

Visit First Impressions at www.michiganlawreview.org.

Please send questions and comments to the Executive Editors of First Impressions at

Untrodden Ground

How Presidents Interpret the Constitution

HAROLD H. BRUFF

"Everyone knows that the Supreme Court interprets the Constitution. But in this magisterial book, Bruff shows that presidents have played the most important role in interpreting the Constitution over the course of the nation's history—and have done so in a way that teaches us not just about the presidency but about the nature of the American Constitution itself. . . . An original and subtle analysis of what our presidents have done."

—David A. Strauss, University of Chicago Law School

Wasting a Crisis

Why Securities Regulation Fails

PAUL G. MAHONEY

"Mahoney casts the foundational securities laws of the New Deal in a completely different light, going behind the assertions of contemporary commentators and providing compelling evidence that we ought to question their accuracy. This is a truly important book and a timely addition of a powerful contrarian view to today's policy discussions that tend to have a one-sided focus on the need for expanded regulation without regard to whether there is any supporting evidence for proposed policies."—Roberta Romano, Yale Law School

Drones and the Future of Armed Conflict

Ethical, Legal, and Strategic Implications

Edited by DAVID CORTRIGHT,
RACHEL FAIRHURST, and KRISTEN WALL

"While the peak of drone usage may have passed, we will be evaluating and reevaluating the legality, justice, and utility of the drone war for decades. Cortright, Fairhurst, and Wall provide an important contribution to the broader discussion on drone warfare. Readers with an interest in political affairs and the use of force will find this book fascinating, and those studying international relations and international law will also find much to like."—Robert M. Farley, University of Kentucky
