

Table of Contents

	PAGE
EDITORIAL NOTE	V
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS	xxiii
PART SIX. CORPORATIONS AND KINDRED ORGANIZATIONS	I
CHAPTER 18. TYPES OF ORGANIZATIONS, NATIONALITY, AND DOMICIL	3
I. Categories of Organizations	4
1. Survey	4
2. Private Business Organizations	7
3. Public Legal Persons	10
States	10
Public corporations	11
4. Foundations and Trusts	13
5. Associations for Nonprofit Purposes	14
Conclusions	15
6. Legal Persons with International Purposes	15
Supranational legal bodies	15
Plurinational centralized legal bodies	15
Plurinational decentralized legal bodies	15
Cartels	16
International public corporations for economic purposes	17
II. The Nationality of Corporations	17
1. Difference of Purpose from Conflicts Law	17
2. Where Unity of Criterion Desirable	19
3. Separate Fields	20
III. The Latin-American View	24
IV. Domicil of Corporations	27

	PAGE
CHAPTER 19. THE PERSONAL LAW OF BUSINESS
CORPORATIONS	31
I. Law of the State of Incorporation	31
Anglo-American law	31
Other countries	32
II. Law of the Place of Central Control	33
1. Countries	33
2. Significance of the Principle	38
3. Concept of Central Office	40
4. Real Existence of the Central Office	42
III. Exceptions	46
1. To the Law of Incorporation	46
2. To the Law of the Central Office	47
IV. Renvoi	50
V. Transfer of Central Administration to Another Country	51
1. Law of Central Control	51
2. Law of Incorporation	55
VI. Theory of Control	57
War seizures and restrictions	58
Mixed arbitral tribunals	59
Postwar controversy in France	60
VII. Rationale	63
CHAPTER 20. THE SCOPE OF THE PERSONAL LAW OF CORPORATIONS	69
1. Existence and Legal Character	69
2. Capacity (Powers)	72
3. Internal Organization	75
Certificates	75
Seizures	77
4. External Relations	81
Liability of stockholders in the United States	81
Borderline problems	84

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ix

	PAGE
5. Modification and End	85
Soviet nationalization	88
CHAPTER 21. UNINCORPORATED BUSINESS
ORGANIZATIONS	94
I. Method of Legal Construction	94
1. The Old Antithesis	94
2. Gradation of Corporate Character	96
3. Purposes of Construction	97
II. Personal Law	101
1. Civil Law Doctrine	101
Need for a personal law	101
Law and treaties	102
Conflict with domestic classification	104
2. American Law	108
(a) Quasi corporations	108
(b) Partnerships	112
3. Contacts	114
(a) Law of the seat	114
(b) American quasi corporations	114
(c) American general partnerships	115
III. Scope of Personal Law	116
1. General Aspects	116
2. Partnerships	117
3. The Right to Be a Party	120
IV. Quasi Nationality of Partnership	123
CHAPTER 22. RECOGNITION
I. Theories of Recognition	125
1. The Territorial Theory	125
2. The International Theory	128
3. Reactionary Trends	131
4. Concept of Recognition	132

	PAGE
II. Conditions for Recognition	133
1. Unconditional Recognition	133
(a) For all organizations	134
(b) For trading associations	135
(c) For nonprofit corporations	137
(d) Foundations	138
(e) Partnerships	137
2. Special Conditions for Recognition	139
(a) Authorization in case of reciprocity—
France	139
Other Countries	141
(b) Special authorization	141
3. Treaties	142
III. Effects of Recognition	143
1. Full Effect	143
2. Minimal Effect	143
(a) Capacity to be a party	143
(b) Single acts	148
3. Is the Extent of Recognition Determined by
Domestic Law?	150
IV. The Powers of the Corporation and its Agents	158
1. Powers of Corporation	158
2. Legal Restriction on the Capacity of
Corporations	165
(a) Acquisitions by gift or will	165
(b) Taking of land	167
3. Authority of Agents	168
CHAPTER 23. DOING BUSINESS	173
I. Introduction	173
1. Regulation of Foreign Corporations	173
2. Concept of Doing Business	175
3. Categories of Business Places	176
II. Survey of Systems	179

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xi

	PAGE
1. Unconditional Admittance	179
2. Business Without a Permanent Place	180
3. Business Under Domestic Law	180
4. Qualifying for Authorization	181
5. Discretionary Grant of Authorization	183
6. Domestication	185
7. Reciprocity	187
III. The Position of Permanent Establishments in Conflicts Law	187
1. Principle	187
2. Scope of Personal Law	188
3. Territorial Law Governing According to General Conflicts Rules	189
IV. Statutory Impositions	191
1. Service of Process and Jurisdiction	191
2. Registration	194
3. Publications	196
4. Guarantees	196
5. Application of the Internal Law	197
6. Special Purposes	201
V. Sanctions of Territorial Impositions	201
1. Failure to Obtain Authorization to Do Business	202
United States	202
Other countries	211
Appraisal	213
2. Failure to Register	214
VI. Treaties	217
1. Existing Treaties	217
(a) Commercial clause	217
(b) Special clauses	217
(c) Most-favored-nation clause	218
(d) Clause of reciprocity	210

	PAGE
2. Draft Proposals	219
VII. Conclusions	220
PART SEVEN. TORTS	227
CHAPTER 24. THE PRINCIPLE	229
I. The Meaning of Tort	229
1. Delict and Quasi Delict	229
2. Characterization of Tort	232
II. The Principle	235
1. The Dominant Principle	235
2. Lex Fori	237
3. Rule of Similarity	238
American cases	238
British rules	239
4. Harm Done in a Territory Not Belonging to Any Country	244
III. Limitations on the Principle	244
1. Law Common to the Parties	244
2. Local Actions	246
3. Protection of Defendant Nationals of the Forum	247
4. Public Policy as a General Limitation	248
5. Rationale	251
CHAPTER 25. THE SCOPE OF THE PRINCIPLE	255
1. The Law of Wrong Governs Capacity to Commit a Tort	255
2. Unlawfulness	256
(a) Illicit conduct	256
(b) Authorized acts	256
3. Causation and Fault	257
(a) Causation	257
(b) Fault	258

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xiii

	PAGE
(c) Contributory negligence	258
Characterization	260
4. Proper Plaintiff	261
(a) Beneficiary of the tort claim	261
(b) Indirect harm	262
(c) Plaintiff in own name on behalf of the injured	262
5. Proper Defendant	263
(a) Co-obligors	263
(b) Claim against the insurer of the tortfeasor	263
6. Influence of Family Relations	265
7. Vicarious Liability	267
(a) Principle	267
(b) Persons out of state	268
(c) Other effects of public policy	275
8. Damages for Tort	276
Influence of lex fori	278
9. Other Sanctions	280
10. Relation to Procedural Law	281
(a) In general	281
(b) Burden of proof	283
American law	285
(c) Conditions of bringing suit	286
11. Relation to Contractual Obligations	287
(a) Distinction in the municipal laws	287
(b) Conflicts law	290
Stipulations for exemption from liability	293
12. Statutes of Limitation	294
13. Industrial Property	295
(a) Territorial limitation of protected interests	295
(b) Unfair competition	295
CHAPTER 26. THE PLACE OF WRONG	301
I. Survey of Solutions	301

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	PAGE
I. Theory of the Place of Injury
(The American Rule)	301
2. Theory of the Place of Acting
(The Civil Law Rule)	303
3. Elective Concurrence of Claims
(The Reichsgericht Rule)	304
4. Mixed Solutions	306
(a) Influence of the law of the place of acting	306
(b) Influence of the law of the place of effect	308
(c) Differentiated solutions	308
5. Differences of Policies	309
II. The Place of Acting	311
1. Preparatory Acts	311
2. Acts and Omissions	312
(a) Omissive torts	312
(b) Accomplices	313
3. Acting in Several States	314
(a) Separate torts in several countries	314
(b) Single tort committed by partial acts in several states	315
4. Acting at a Distance	317
(a) Means of acting in foreign jurisdictions	317
(b) Letters	318
(c) Suppliers	319
(d) Broadcasts, newspapers, and the like	320
III. The Place of Injury	323
1. Injury and Damage	323
Deceit	325
2. Injury and Acting	327
Damage by aircraft	327

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xv

	PAGE
IV. The Structure of Torts	328
1. Liability Without Proof of Fault	328
(a) Absolute liability	328
(b) Strict liability	329
2. Neighboring Relations	330
(a) Flood	330
(b) Mine damage	332
3. Fault	332
(a) International acts	332
(b) Negligence	333
V. Conclusion	333
 CHAPTER 27. MARITIME AND AERONAUTIC TORTS	 336
I. Survey of Principles	336
1. General Maritime Law	336
England	336
United States	338
2. Modern Principles	339
II. Unification of Substantive Laws	340
Collision	340
Navigation	341
Aerial law	342
III. Torts Done Within a State Territory	342
1. Torts in Territorial Waters	342
(a) Rule	343
(b) Exceptions	345
2. Collision of Aircraft Flying over State Territory	346
IV. Torts on the High Seas	347
1. Torts on Board One Vessel	347
Aircraft	347
2. Collision	348
3. Other Torts	351

	PAGE
V. Special Problems	352
1. Rules of Navigation	352
2. Extent of Damages	352
3. Public Policy	354
4. Formal Requirements of Suit	354
 PART EIGHT. CONTRACTS IN GENERAL	 356
 CHAPTER 28. CHOICE OF LAW BY THE PARTIES
(Party Autonomy)	359
I. The Problem of American Law	359
II. The Theories	362
1. Theory Negating Choice of Law by the Parties	362
2. Proper Law Theory	365
3. Theory Permitting Agreement of Parties on the Applicable Law	368
III. The Present Systems	370
1. Outside the United States	370
Autonomy recognized	370
Austrian Civil Code	371
Latin America	372
Other jurisdictions rejecting party autonomy	375
2. United States	376
3. Express Agreements	378
4. Implied Agreements	386
5. Scope of the Agreement	389
(a) Problem of renvoi	389
(b) Nullity by choice of law	389
IV. Choice of Several Laws	390
1. Special References	390
2. Nature of Special References	393

	PAGE
CHAPTER 29. THEORIES RESTRICTING PARTY
AUTONOMY	396
I. Doctrines of General Scope	396
1. Doctrines Reserving Imperative Rules	396
(a) Imperative rules of predestined law	396
(b) Lex loci contractus necessarily governs validity	397
(c) Illegality under lex loci contractus invalidating the contract	399
(d) Prevailing rule	401
2. Evasion	402
(a) Fraudulent evasion	402
(b) Contracts without foreign elements	402
(c) Lex fori in imperative role	403
(d) American law	403
3. Requirement of Substantial Connection	404
II. Special American Doctrines	410
1. Usury Statutes	410
Stipulation for a law	412
2. Insurance Statutes	414
III. Exemptions from Liability	417
Municipal laws and unifications	417
Conflicts law	420
Extraterritorial effect	426
International needs	427
IV. Conclusions	429
CHAPTER 30. RULES IN ABSENCE OF
PARTY AGREEMENT	432
A. Judicial Choice of Law	432
I. Individualized Choice of Law	432
1. Presumed Intention of the Parties	432
2. "Objective" Theory	438
3. Rationale	439

	PAGE
Conclusion	442
II. General Rules	442
1. Prima Facie Rules	442
2. Rigid General Rules	443
3. "No Rule"	444
4. The Most Characteristic Connection ..	444
B. Contracts	445
I. Historical Note	445
II. Law of the Place of Contracting	447
1. To Govern the Entire Contract	447
By logical necessity	447
By presumed intention	448
By fixed conflicts rule	449
2. To Govern the Making of Contracts ..	450
Impracticability of the division	452
3. American Law	453
4. Determination of the
Place of Contracting	455
Contracts between absent persons	455
United States	458
Contracts on board a ship or airplane ..	459
Contracts in consulates or embassies ..	459
Binding force of offers	460
Various cases treated in the Restatement	460
Discretionary assumptions	461
Contracting in another state	462
5. Rationale	462
III. Law of the place of Performance	464
1. Historical Note	464
2. Countries	465
United States	466
3. Mode of Fulfillment	466
4. Several Places of Performance	469

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xix

	PAGE
5. Lack of a Certain Place of Performance	472
6. Characterization	473
7. Rationale	474
IV. Law of the Debtor's Domicil	475
V. The Law Most Favorable to the Contract	476
VI. Renvoi	482
VII. Conclusions	482
1. Specialized Rules	482
2. The Law of the Contract	485
 CHAPTER 3I. FORM OF CONTRACTS	 487
I. The Rules	487
1. Lex loci contractus	487
2. Locus regit actum	487
(a) Compulsory rule	488
(b) Optional rule	489
(i) Lex causae imperative	492
(ii) Lex causae optional	492
(iii) Lex loci contractus optional	493
(iv) Lex loci contractus obligatory	493
3. Lex causae	493
United States	493
Other countries	494
4. Exceptional Rules	495
(a) National law	495
(b) Cumulated tests	495
(c) Law of the forum	495
(d) Preponderance of lex causae	497
II. Scope of the Rules	499
1. Concept of Formal Requirements	499
2. Form and Procedure	501
(a) Statute of Frauds	501
(b) Exclusion of nonwritten evidence	503
(c) Parol evidence	505

	PAGE
3. Form and Revenue Law	505
4. Determination of the Place of Contracting	507
(a) Contract by correspondence	507
(b) Determination by the parties	508
III. Operation of the Rules	508
1. Solemnities Prescribed by Lex Causae	508
2. Form Agreeable to Lex Loci Contractus	512
Public policy	513
3. Renvoi	514
4. Defective Form	515
IV. Conclusion	516
CHAPTER 32. SCOPE OF THE LAW OF THE CONTRACT	520
I. Formation of the Contract	521
1. Consent in Form	521
The problem	521
Conflicts rules	522
2. Consent in Fact	525
The problem	525
Conflicts rules	526
3. Want of Consideration	528
II. Nature and Effects	530
1. The Nature of the Contract	530
2. Intended and Legal Effects	532
3. Interpretation of Terms	533
Rules of interpretation	533
Ascertainment of true meaning	534
Reference to local conceptions	535
III. Legality	536
IV. Nonperformance of the Contract	541
1. In General	541
2. Sanctions of Nonperformance	543
Rescission	543
Damages	544

TABLE OF CONTENTS

xxi

	PAGE
Penalties	545
Moratory interest allowed as damages	546
3. Burden of Proof	547
V. Change of Law	547
CHAPTER 33. PUBLIC POLICY	551
I. The Law of the Forum	551
A. The Present Situation	551
Uncertainty	552
Full Faith and Credit Clause	554
Due Process Clause	556
American repugnance to the use of the exception	557
Recent European reaction	558
B. The Problem	560
1. Policy of Public, Especially Administrative, Law	561
Public law of the forum	563
Sunday contracts	565
Foreign governing law	567
2. Policy of Private Law	568
C. Examples	569
1. Wagering Contracts	569
Lotteries	574
Indorsed gaming notes	575
2. Various Contracts	577
Champerty	577
Other examples	578
Protection of personality	578
3. Immoral Transactions	580
Bribery	580
Lease of a gambling house	581
D. Conclusions	582

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	PAGE
II. Violation of Foreign Law	585
Smuggling	586
Generalizations	590
International treaties	590
TABLES	593
BIBLIOGRAPHY	595
TABLE OF STATUTES	613
TABLE OF ANGLO-AMERICAN CASES	659
INDEX	697