O, MICHIGAN, WE BRING TO THEE
OUR HANDS, OUR HEARTS, OUR LOYALTY;
THY COLORS OVER US SHALL WAVE,
WHILE HURON'S BRINK THE WATERS LAVE:
WHILE YELLOW FIELDS IN HARVEST TIME,
AND BLUE THE SKIES IN EVERY CLIME.

THY SONS ARE STRONG, THY DAUGHTERS FAIR, AND FROM THY HALLS WITH COURAGE RARE
THEY GO TO KEEP THY FAIR NAME BRIGHT, ON TRACK AND FIELD WITH BRAWNA AND MIGHT;
IN HALLS OF LAW, IN HAUNTS OF LORE,
ON FIELDS OF PAIN, THY BLESSINGS POUR.

IN PARTING, ALMA MATER WISE,
OUR HEARTS IN PRAISE TO THEE ARISE,
OUR EYES ARE FULL, OUR VOICES BREAK,
WE WOULD STAY NEAR FOR THY DEAR SAKE, BUT THOUGH THE SEAS MAY ROLL BETWEEN OUR LOVE SHALL KEEP OUR MEM'RY KEEN.

THE KEY TO YOUR LIBRARY

IT IS A LAW FINDER

This work is the result of 30 years' labor, study and experiment by the author, and is offered to the profession as a law finder in its broadest scope.

It is built on the Deductive Plan, opening up easily and readily the intricacies of the law, enabling one to ascertain at a glance which usually takes pages to unfold.

The new law book embodies a subject in a few sections, reinforces and supplements these sections with all the great leading annotated cases and maxims so arranged by cross-references that, having one point with which to start, either the topic word, the maxim or the case, the others are readily found. In other words, three distinct methods are open by which to find the law, and last but not least, if you don't know how and where to look for the law this work will point out the way.

An extended bibliography attends each case, so that, be your library large or small, this work affords a copious index, and increases its working value tenfold, permitting the greatest use of the old as well as new text books.

HUGHES PROCEDURE
BY WM. T. HUGHES

To the lawyer familiar with a table of cases the work appeals most strongly. No argument is necessary to convince him that a table of great cases is a statement of great fundamental principles, and why a table of cases is the most accurate index to the old and the new law, and how these index the great books of all countries and times through a table of cases cited.

With this work at hand you have twenty-five works on procedure for instant reference.
What requires many pages in the Encyclopedia is covered by this work in one-half a page.
It gives a better or more direct line of cases than any Digest.
It puts you in direct touch with the subject desired.
It gives you 500 great leading cases as well as 2,999 others.
It gives you the benefit of the labors of the greatest legal minds.
It converts your library into an Encyclopedia of the great masters.
It is the best epitome and ready reference to the standard works.
It gives extended bibliography of the great annotated cases.
It is an Index Digest to the decisions of Coke, Mansfield, Ellinborough, Marshall, Kent, Story, Shaw and Field.
It is an epitome of Smith's and White & Tudor's Leading Cases and Broom's Maxims.
More than one thousand of the great cases and maxims are so arranged.

THREE METHODS FOR FINDING

CALLAGHAN AND COMPANY, CHICAGO
The task of getting out a class directory is at best a laborious one and from its nature must necessarily be done as a labor of love. It would not be so difficult, however, if each member would consider that he owed a duty to the Class, this duty being to let the Secretary know at least once a year his whereabouts. There are a number of members who have not been heard from either directly or through others, since graduation. This being true, it will follow as a matter of course that some of the addresses inserted herein are incorrect. In looking over the addresses if you find one that you know is incorrect, whether it is your own or not, you will be conferring a favor upon the class by informing the Secretary at once. The true address will then appear in the next number of the Alumnus, and those who desire to keep their Directory up to date can do so by simply noting in it these corrections.

The Class is to be congratulated in being able to induce a house of the character of Callaghan & Company to undertake a job, in which there is so little profit, as in the publishing of this Directory. The advertising and good will of the class is naturally worth something, but even considering these, it is not a very attractive proposition and if the members wish to continue having their Directory published in this style, they should, when adding to their library, "Think of these things" and act accordingly.

Ann Arbor, 1909. Don't forget the date.

Have you been thrown out of court yet?

---

The class is now scattered over thirty-three states and territories.

* * *

Many have not been heard from, either directly or through others, since graduation.

One hundred and eight of the class of 1906 were "conned" in Evidence. It is also reported, that only one man of the class of 1905 escaped in Garnishment. Surely, the path of the seeker after legal knowledge is no longer strewn with roses.

* * *

The work of Prof. Knowlton in Railway Law has been taken by Prof. Goddard. "Jerry" has no classes with the Seniors now but lectures on Quasi-Contracts during the last semester of the second year.

* * *

Mr. Stein was compelled to give up his work in conveyancing last year, on account of ill-health. For the welfare of the practical side of this subject, it is to be hoped that Mr. Stein will be able to resume his duties the coming year.

* * *

It is Assistant Professor Rood now. The members of this class hope that the first part of this title may soon be dropped and Prof. Rood be given the one which his ability and learning justly entitle him to.

* * *

There are eighty-two members of the class in Michigan. Illinois comes next with twenty-seven; Ohio has twenty-five and Indiana follows with nineteen. Of the cities, Detroit leads with fifteen, Chicago, Cleveland and Toledo following with ten, seven and five, respectively.

The members of this class have always been noted for their extreme modesty. If any of them ever felt that they belonged to the greatest class that ever graduated from Michigan, they were careful to keep the knowledge locked safely within their own breasts. This truly Christian virtue may have been due to the desire on their part, not to unduly humiliate the members of other classes, by comparisons that must have been only too obvious to the observing ones. Or again, they may have felt that this recognition should more properly come from some other source than from within their own ranks. This just recognition not having been accorded, the time has come then for the class to crawl from under the bushel and proclaim its greatness to the world. It is not the purpose of this article to speak of the intellectual triumphs of any individual member, or of the class as a whole. These stand forth in the records of the Department and are open to investigation, by any incredulous one. Its twice champion football still lives in the memory of its opponents. Its baseball team—well, it is not the season for baseball now and it can therefore be passed lightly over until some more appropriate time, besides we are a little short on space.

But when the athletic history of Michigan comes to be written there will be in it six names that will stand out with more than usual prominence. These names will be prominent not only on account of the brilliant work done by them as individuals, to bring honor home to Michigan, but also because they were all members of the same class, the '04 Law. In football there was Heston, all American teams '03, '04, and now coaching at Drake. "Dad" Gregory, All-Western '02, '03, coaching at Kenyon. Dan McGugan, All-Western '02, coaching at Vanderbilt, champions of the South last year. Paul Jones, All-Western '02, coaching at Western Reserve. To this list can be added Hyde, Captain of the champion '03 eleven of the '04 Law, and now coaching at Texas Christian University. In track there was Dvorak, holder of the Western Intercolligiate in the pole vault and now athletic director at Armour Institute, Chicago. Archie Hahn, whose brilliant record while in college is known to everyone, and who since leaving has tied the world's record in the seventy-five yard dash and established a new one in the sixty yard event. The old record was made by Arthur Duffy, of Georgetown.

Any other class that can make a showing equal to this is invited to trot it out, or forever hold its peace.

Yost will have to teach the Varsity some brand new tricks this year. Dan McGugan will show the rooters at Ann Arbor the real thing in Southern football when the Champion Vanderbilts make their appearance on Ferry Field, while the valiant "Willie" Heston, with his husky Drake eleven, will also try to take a fall out of his old leader.

It might not be a bad idea for the members of this class who expect to attend the Chicago game to meet at the Chicago Beach Hotel at noon of Thanksgiving, go to the field in a body and let the undergraduates from Ann Arbor know that '04 L. still lives.

* * *

On your travels carry this directory with you. It may aid in finding an old friend.

PERSONALS.

Henry W. Axford has been practicing in Detroit since his graduation.

* * *

A. L. Richardson has an excellent position in the Pere Marquette offices, Detroit.

* * *

Harry C. Gahn is a member of the Cleveland colony of '04 Laws. His office is in the American Trust Building.

* * *

Harrison Johnson announces that he has opened an office for the general practice of the law at Kansas City, Mo.

Ralph Scatterday was enrolling and engrossing clerk of the Illinois Senate, Forty-Fourth General Assembly. He has not fully decided upon his location.

Thomas B. Hubbard is located at Birmingham, Ala. He is local counsel for the Southern Ry., likes his work immensely and is especially pleased with the rushing business prosperity of Birmingham.

C. M. Price is now permanently located at Twin Falls, Idaho. He is in a town and country of unusual promise and is doing well, considering the short time he has been there.

Milo B. Slick has formed a partnership with Harvey J. Curtis, a '05 law, the firm name being Slick & Curtis. They are located at Walkerton, Ind., and for a new firm are doing exceptionally well, having eleven cases in the Circuit Court and one in Bankruptcy.

Since leaving Ann Arbor, James M. Cobb has been with the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Penn. Two prizes have been awarded him for his work in the field. One of these prizes is a share of stock, the market value of which is $128.50. He has since been promoted to the position of Division Superintendent.

If the assertion of F. L. Leckie is to be taken seriously, the representatives of the class in Cleveland are all about in the same condition of threadbare gentility. But then Leckie always was a humorist.

Edgar R. Alles has passed up the law as a profession and entered the office of the Western Robe Co., a large manufacturing establishment in Detroit.

The name of Edmund M. Sioman "Of Counsel" is beginning to appear with surprising frequency in the pages of the Northwestern Reporter.

Bliss & McCollum is the name of a new law firm in Detroit. Incidentally it might be said that they are still working their old draft as stenographers, and according to Bliss, "It helps some."

J. D. Robinson and the Hon. Wm. S. Hart, of Waukon, Iowa, are both to be congratulated, Robinson in obtaining a position in the office of the latter and Mr. Hart in finding so capable an assistant. Mr. Hart has a large and general practice, and is one of the best and most widely known lawyers in that part of Iowa.

The people of St. Joseph County, Ind., ought to have no difficulty in getting either out of trouble or into it. They have in their midst the following array of legal lights, to wit: Seebert and Schurtz, Zinky and Kline, A. C. Goldtrap, and Milo B. Slick.

F. M. Hughson and J. R. Fleming have come together at Portland, Ind., and formed a partnership, under the name of Hughson & Fleming.

Chas. A. Hammond has entered into partnership with V. O. Johnson of Oberlin, Ohio. The name of the firm is Johnson & Hammond.

F. L. Rain is in the office of John Heasty, Fairbury, Neb.

According to the Nebraska Legal News, Ernest Ringo has located at Papillion, in that state.

D. A. Cook has been practicing at Lorain, Ohio, since February of this year.

Paul Jones has an office in the American Trust Building, Cleveland.

B. E. Stoutmeyer is a member of the firm of Davidson & Stoutmeyer, Boise, Idaho. This gives the class five representatives in that state.

Eugene W. Lawton is located at Lawton, Van Buren County, Mich., on the main line of the Michigan Central, next west from Kalamazoo. He is doing a good business there.

Chas. D. Symonds has entered into partnership with Elmer Beach, a real estate man, under the firm name of Symonds & Beach. They will do business in law, real estate and insurance, and in connection with their real estate work they are agents for large tracts of cut over lands in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The firm is located at Gladstone, Mich.

Failing & Eppstein is the name of a firm of attorneys and counsellors at law, who are now seeking fame and fortune in Toledo. In their brief career before the bar they have defended a second degree murder case and taken part in other controversies of a legal character.
Brennan, Donnelly, Williams and Sloman ought to be able to steer clear of the pitfalls that beset the path of the inexperienced and unwary in the law. Each is in tow of his paternal ancestor.

On July twenty-first of this year, Miss Lucy Monroe, the only sister of C. O. Monroe, was burned to death. She was a graduate of the U. of M., class of 1903, and was known to many of the members of this class. It is needless to say that Mr. Monroe will have the most profound sympathy of the members of this class, as soon as they learn of this unfortunate occurrence.

Chas. H. Pease is the junior member of the firm of Gaffney & Pease, Cadillac, Mich. Mr. Gaffney was the Democratic candidate for Attorney-General of the state at the last election. That the divorce business is lively in Cadillac is evidenced by the fact that Pease has secured six decrees, discontinued and settled two and has four still pending.

Barney Oldfield, the world-renowned automobilist, has lost several races lately and is now in imminent danger of losing his wife. Dan McGugin has a finger in the pie, he being the lady's solicitor in her effort to free herself from the strenuous Barney, whom she claims has shown too much attention to other women.

Angell, Boynton, McMillan & Bodman, of Detroit, have a new man in their office, James Turner. "Jim's" native modesty prevented him from saying whether he was there in the capacity of office boy, confidential advisor to the firm, or simply as a handy man to have around the place.

C. O. Monroe has been manager of the Tribune Co., South Haven, Mich., and editor of their two publications, "The Daily Tribune" and the "Tribune Messenger," since February of this year. He has been with the company since his graduation. On June fifteenth, 1905, he was married at Jackson, Mich., to Miss Lorene T. Seaver, of that city. For a wedding trip they took the "Trip to Halifax" with the Michigan Press Association.

H. M. Kimball is engaged in the practice at his home town, Orland, Ind. He does not intend to remain there permanently, but about October expects to make a journey through Utah, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Northern California with a view of selecting a permanent location.

FROM THE LEADERS OF THE BAR.

W. R. Stevens, St. Joseph, Mich.: "We are getting along very nicely and are enjoying out new home immensely. My practice is picking up gradually and things look good for the future. The divorce business flourishes here as elsewhere, but I have little to do with that line. Criminal law seems to hold my attention more closely than anything else. I don't care for it in particular, but turn down nothing that has merit to it. I have done considerable collecting, made some loans, abstract investigations have come to me and some have sought advice. The last business is not very remunerative, but I presume the clients wanting advice think mine is expensive, even if given gratis."

Curtis D. Alway, Traverse City, Mich.: "A short time ago I was in Anderson, Ind., and while going down the street one day met Frank M. Hughson. He told me that he and Fleming were practicing at Portland, Ind. We had quite a visit and I assure you that it seemed good to see one of the boys again. I also learned from him that Sexton had married and gone into the banking business in Oklahoma. A few weeks ago we received a claim for collection against a party here forwarded by Huston & McGugin."

Edwin S. Ripley, Lincoln, Neb.: "I have been recently admitted to the bar here and am practicing with my uncle, Mr. Frederick Shepherd, an attorney of long experience and high standing and we are prepared to do a general law business. We have well equipped and commodious offices at 413-414 Richards Building, Lincoln, Neb.

"I took the Illinois bar examination in June, 1904, and passed it in company with seven other 1904 men, all who tried it. I was in a Chicago law office up to the middle of May of this year, but concluded to try it out here. Shortly before leaving Chicago I met Frank Meyer upon the street. He was collecting for one of the large department stores, Marshall Field & Co., as I remember, but would not be sure."

O. O. Barr, Lima, Ohio: "After leaving Ann Arbor a year ago, I spent the summer loaing and running around this part of the country. In October I went into the office of Ridenour & Halfhill to learn how to put into practice the theory that we had been taught during our brief stay at Ann Arbor. I remained there until the sixth day of July, 1905, when I opened an office at 138½ North Main street, Lima, Ohio, at which place I will be pleased to receive the Michigan boys that come this way.”

Marvin J. Schaberg, Kalamazoo: “As you will notice, I am now established by myself in a fine new office building here. There are twelve other lawyers in the building. Barkenbus, ’05 Law, and myself have a common reception room, and each of us have a private office. Am getting along nicely, considering that it is only the start, and am glad to see so many favorable reports from the fellows in the Alumnus.”

R. K. Walton, New York: “Just a line to say that Wagner, Coulter and myself passed the bar examination last April. We were unable to attempt it earlier on account of the six-months residence rule.

“In reference to that invitation to visiting classmates which you so spontaneously extended in my behalf last issue, permit me to ratify it, with the exception of agreeing to exhibit George Tumpson. He is in Connellsville, Penn., attending to some business for his father, but we still have hopes of seeing him with us before the winter is over.”

John Truax: “I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the directory of the Class of ’04. It does a fellow worlds of good to find out what some of the old boys are doing. Since June last I have done considerable wandering throughout the West and Northwest, and several times have I met ’04’s who were bent on the same mission—to find a promising place to locate.

“I am now temporarily located at Lind, Adams County, Wash., a new town in the Big Bend country. While on the coast a few weeks ago I met Wilkeson at Tacoma, also Gregory and Neckles at Seattle. Miles W. Townsend is located at Pasco, the county seat of Franklin County, Wash. That county will soon be irrigated, then land values will rise, business will boom and Miles will be in on the ‘ground floor.’ The citizens of that county seem to be favorably impressed with Townsend, for recently, when a committee of three citizens was selected by the county to go to the legislature at Olympia and work for the interests of the irrigation bill then pending, Miles was one of the three who were chosen.

“I am planning to see all the old boys on the campus again in 1909.”

E. J. Hyde, Dallas, Texas: “First let me say that we have moved from our former location in the Cockerell Building to 315 Slaughter Building. I am in a way isolated from most of the boys, being, so far as I know, the only man permanently located in Texas. Felker was here for some time, but the last I saw of him he was headed for Denver, nor do I know where he is now.

“I have signed to coach the Texas Christian University football team this season. T. C. U. is the only school of the Christian church in the South. It is located at Waco, Texas. I will take up my duties there September 1st, and return to Dallas Thanksgiving. My partner will have full say about the business during that time. I went after the job as soon as the season closed last fall, and with the very valuable aid of Yost and Dan McGugin and the good name of Michigan behind me, I succeeded in landing it. It pays well and I expect to have a good time, although I expect my coaching will be largely a bluff.

“Concerning the heat proposition, will say that I do not notice the heat here any more than in the North, eighty degrees in Michigan being equal to ninety here. There is that much difference in the humidity. The climate is in all things the most agreeable I ever experienced. The climate surely has agreed well with me so far. I weigh above 190 all last winter and now weigh 192 with a light suit on. I have a bright red mustache, perhaps that is the reason of my increased weight. I have received letters from several of the boys who want to come to the Southwest but are a little timid, not knowing as much as they would like about this land of promise.”

Dan McGugin, Detroit: “Am enclosing a card of the firm of Huston & McGugin. Thus far we have managed to get one meal a day with meat on Sunday. We frequently see members of the 1904 class. Ingersoll, Savery, Lehman, Hanley, Billy Williams, Paul Jones, Leckie, Turner, McIntire, McGuire and a number of the other boys have all been in our office. Gregory has sent several piteous appeals for money, but as we have heard nothing from him lately, conclude he has starved to death.”

Elim J. Hawbaker, Mansfield, Ill.: “I have just returned from a three weeks’ tour of the West. I went out over the Northern Pacific and came back over the Union Pacific stopping at all the large towns of interest.
I met quite a few of our classmates and heard of several others, the last directory aiding me quite a good deal in finding them. At Seattle I met Frank Hannum, who played on our football team. He is associated with one of the leading firms in that city and has a very good opening. I also saw Findley and Nockels, who have formed a partnership in the same town and have their office in the Alaska Building. They told me that Wilkeson was at Tacoma and that he was shot through the arm a short time ago while pursuing some desperadoes.
“Dad” Gregory is in partnership with a Mr.
Carr and they are doing business. Dad comes east this fall to coach Kenyon College in football. Going on to Portland, I found that Rauch and Senn had formed a partnership and were located at Silverton in Multnomah County. They are in the best part of the state and are investing their earnings in that country. Upon returning I saw both Stoutemyer and Berridge, at Boise City, Idaho. The former is in partnership with an older man, while the latter is alone. They informed me that Scatterday and Brittenham were in that town the day before, and that the former was going to locate in Caldwell, a town near Boise. At Cripple Creek I met quite by accident Guy Nevitt, who is in the law offices of Tolly Scott, one of the leading lawyers of the town. At Denver I met a fellow who took some work with us but who did not graduate until this year. He has been over the West looking up a location. His name is Steele. Several of the boys whom I met read me parts of letters received from other boys. I hear from Albert Hell, who has bought out a law practice at Olivet, S. Dak. I also hear that Burns is located in Chicago.

“As for myself I have been practicing in this town about a year, with C. W. Firke, a ’02 Law from Ann Arbor. I am having better results than I expected and as good as I deserve. Mansfield is about fifteen miles from Champaign and I am thus able to see all Michigan-Illinois athletic contests.”

Frank E. Wood, Wilmerding, Penn.: “This Is to let you know that ‘Wood,’ ’04 Law, is still above terra firma, not practicing yet, but with visions of future fees and fame.
I am at present a contracting agent for the Allegheny County Light Company. I find that to be admitted in Pennsylvania is far different than passing one of ‘Tommy’s’ or ‘Dumpy’s’ exam’s. It takes patience and hard work, but I am going to stick it out.
I have lost my class pin and desire very much to get another. Do you think it possible?”

Millard A. Seitz, Benton Harbor, Mich.:
“I have failed to send you any information concerning myself during the year as I had none worth mentioning. July 1st of this year I formed a partnership with H. S. Grey, of this place, under the firm name of Gray & Seitz. I have far exceeded my expectations in the way of business during the first year and now expect to enjoy a fair degree of prosperity. Another bit of information that might be worth mentioning: I was elected Circuit Court Commissioner last fall and am now enjoying the emoluments from that exalted judicial office.”

Sanford K. Trippet, Princeton, Ind.: “I have made so many changes lately that I know you will be interested in hearing them. In the first place, on the 15th of last month I took unto myself a wife, from Oakland City, Ind. On our honeymoon we journeyed through some beautiful parts of Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas, and met some of the most hospitable people that live.
Then on the first of June I formed a partnership with John T. Ballard, former County Superintendent of this county and a young man beginning the practice of law.
We think we have many of the qualifications of a first-class firm, and are starting out very encouragingly, at least. Mr. Duncan, my former partner, and I mutually agreed to dissolve. I have always thought that a young fellow should not stay in with an older man for a very long time, else he will become rutted and fossilized. Besides, to get along you must paddle your own canoe, and two young fellows can do that as well one time as another.”

WHAT DAN McGUGIN IS DOING.
Dan McGugin, Michigan’s star pigskin chaser, the same Dan who used to climb out from a pile of human debris with that everlasting smile when Michigan was covering herself and him with glory on the gridiron, shone with a new light Sunday afternoon when he addressed the Sunday school of the Church of the Epiphany on athletics and their broadening influence on character.

McGugin tore up the interference offered by a temporary embarrassment due to the new field, and scored a touchdown by his plea for the physical and moral health that go with a strong, clean body. McGugin coached the eleven at Vanderbilt College, Nashville, to the southern championship last year, and expects to land the team at the top again this fall.—From the Detroit Evening News

THE MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY SONG BOOK.

Michigan has long needed a distinctive song book and this need is at last well supplied by the Michigan University Song Book, edited by Franklin A. Wagner and published by the Hinds, Noble & Eldredge Co., New York. The selection has been made with care, the list of Michigan songs is very complete, and the "'Yellow and Blue,' "'Laudes Atque Carmina,'"'Ann Arbor,'"'The Victors,'"'God of the Inland Seas'" have at last been published in an adequate form. Every student will now know where they can be found, and this fact alone should do a great service in spreading these songs among the undergraduate body.

The book is divided into five parts, entitled "'Michigan Songs of Loyalty and Sentiment,'"'Other Songs of Loyalty and Sentiment Sung at Michigan,'" including such songs as "'Elixir Juventatis,'"'In College Days,'"'A Toast to Michigan,'"' as well as the long time favorites such as "'Drinking Song,'"'Juanita,'"'Soldier's Farewell,'"'Michigan Comic Songs,'"'Other Comic Songs Sung at Michigan,'" and "'Michigan 'Rooting' Songs and Yells.'"

The book is attractively bound in dark blue cloth, lettered in gold, with a panoramic view of the Campus on the cover. In concluding his foreword the editor has this to say: "'For himself the editor feels that there is nothing that tends to develop college spirit more than songs of the Alma Mater. They reach the heart and stir the very soul of the college man. They are the leaven of the social life at the University. They arouse the enthusiasm of the crowd, and fire the zeal of the teams to fight and conquer. They help to recall to the 'old grad' his own happy college days; they brighten the days of the struggling undergraduate, and lighten the heavy burden under which he imagines himself toiling. Moreover, the character of its songs is an index to a university's greatness. It is hoped that this collection will play a humble part in fostering and crystallizing the new Michigan spirit of today and tomorrow.'"

Yost's Football Book Is Out.

"Hurry Up!" Coach Writes Entertainingly and Instructively of Game.

Fielding H. Yost, the successful football coach of the University of Michigan, has written a book, "Football for Player and Spectator." The product of the brain of "Hurry Up!" whose good work at Michigan the last four years has earned him a great reputation, forms an interesting volume of 304 pages and is copiously illustrated with photographs and diagrams.

There are over sixty photographs illustrative of plays, posed under Coach Yost's personal supervision. These are of exceptional value in showing just how the plays are brought off. Also there are over 100 diagrams of plays, simply drawn and with concise directions of the way in which to bring off the desired play.

Yost has aimed to avoid being too technical, and has expressed himself in language sufficiently intelligible to the layman. At the same time the explanations are sufficiently detailed so that they can be followed by every expert in football.

The coach begins with the origin and development of the game, and treats of its popularity and prestige in American colleges and high schools. He treats of the benefits of the game to the player, physically, mentally and morally, and has thoughtfully included suggestions for spectators' better understanding and enjoying the game.

The book is put out by the University Publishing Company, Ann Arbor, Mich. It is printed on good paper and neatly bound in cloth.—Chicago Record-Herald.

COOK ON CORPORATIONS

The Law of Corporations Having a Capital Stock

By W. W. Cook

No other work treats this subject as intelligently or in so exhaustive a manner. The fact that its sale is greater than all other works on the subject as well as its continued use with the highest approval by corporation lawyers everywhere is an endorsement which cannot be sustained by any other work on this branch of the law. Not only has it long been recognized as the authority on corporation law, but as a legal text book it occupies the foremost rank. If you have Cook you have the best. Three large volumes, nearly 3,500 pages. Cites nearly 30,000 cases.

3RD EDITION
2 VOLS. $12.00

FOSTER FEDERAL PRACTICE

By Roger Foster

Containing Bankruptcy, Admiralty, Patent Cases, Foreclosure of Railway Mortgages; suits upon claims against the United States; Equity Pleading and Practice in the state courts; Receivers and Injunctions. The decisions during the nine years since the publication of the second edition of this book have made clear much that was then obscure concerning the jurisdiction of the circuit courts under the Judiciary Act of 1887; and of the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts of Appeals under the Evarts Act of 1891. The entire work has been rewritten in the light of the subsequent cases and statutes, and includes new chapters on Practice in Bankruptcy and Admiralty.

3RD EDITION
4 VOLS. $24.00

SUTHERLAND ON DAMAGES

The Law of Damages and Its Application to Contract and Tort

By J. G. Sutherland and J. R. Berryman

This work has occupied the foremost rank as the authoritative treatise on Damages for over twenty years. The editor has incorporated into this new edition the results of the numerous adjudications on the various branches of the law of damages made during the eleven years since the publication of the former edition necessitating the insertion of more than 800 pages of new matter. In its present form the subject is treated exhaustively in a manner not heretofore attempted by any other work.
