An examination into the policies of next year's Law Gold and Blue athlete make-up was one of the central topics discussed at this week's Law School Student Senate meeting.

Dean St. Antoine answered questions from the Senate at the beginning of the meeting, emphasizing the desire of both his staff and faculty personnel to be responsive at all times to student questions and requests. He promised to look into the possibility of the administration providing blue books for all exams, with the cost included in tuition charges, instead of the present system of the LSSS paying for them out of Senate funds.

Tom Koernke then appeared before the Senate, to discuss his proposals for next year's sports program. His main desire was to spread the work around among more people, instead of having an essentially one-man show like that he had been running for the past two years.

The discussion then turned to the subject of non-law students playing on the Law Gold teams. Two of the five starters of last year's Law Gold basketball team were non-law students, according to Koernke, although they were the only two non-law students on the nine man squad. A motion was made to limit Law Gold teams to only law students, but it was withdrawn before the vote was called. Discussion of the composition of co-rec teams revealed that many spouses played on them, due to an imbalance in the male-female ratio on some teams, and it was generally agreed that there was no reason to limit co-rec teams to law students.

Positions on the Law Blue and Law Gold teams have been traditionally awarded to the best law students in each sport, to enable the law school to field the best teams in the hopes of winning the graduate league championship. Under the IM rules, any graduate student may play on any graduate team. This has led, in the past, to the recruitment of top players from all graduate schools to play on the number one teams for the law, dental, and medical schools. According to Koernke, this policy allows superior athletes from the smaller graduate schools, such as pharmacology, to play on the top-rated teams. Against this is the feeling that a team entered under the name of Law Gold, it's $10 admission fee paid for out of Senate funds, should be composed only of law students. With over a thousand students, many of whom were varsity athletes in undergraduate schools, the Law School should have no shortage of qualified students for any sports teams.

A motion to "change the policy" about IM teams was then proposed, and defeated, ending discussion of the topic.

A motion to appoint George Pagano head of the sports Committee next year was then passed.

Candidates for the Administrative, Personnel, and Food Service committees were then discussed. Pamela Hyde was selected to serve as the Student Representative on the Administrative Committee, and Barry White was selected as head of the Food Service Committee.

Four of the five members of the Personnel Committee were chosen, the fifth spot reserved for a freshman student next year. Chosen were: Tom Eastman, Ann Peterson, Ralph Gerson, and Ronald Graham.

A motion was made to buy only lettuce obtained from sources connected with Cesar Chavez's UFW/AFL-CIO union, and canceling contracts for lettuce picked by members of the Teamster's Union. The motion was defeated, citing the right of law students to make their own choices in this political matter. According to food services, non-UFW lettuce is eaten by law students in a 4 to 1 ratio over UFW lettuce in the cafeteria.
A motion to move all Law Club vacuum cleaners to behind the club desk was passed.

The Senate's letter to the Board of Regents expressing disapproval of censorship of X-rated movies on campus was approved. Answering a question raised last meeting on the extent of University involvement in the Butterfield theatre group (Michigan, Campus, State, and Wayside), the University of Michigan owns 6,940 shares in the Butterfield Michigan Theatres Company, and 37,500 in Butterfield Theatres, Inc. The question was raised over the possibility of conflict of interests between the University and campus film groups.

The Food Committee was allocated $25 for a publicity budget. The meeting was adjourned; there will be no more LSSS meetings this year.

PARTING SHOT

Since it's become customary for graduating editors of this paper to burden their final issue with a few bits of nostalgia (and since I'm always willing to shoot off my mouth), I offer the following comments.

In short, I've hated every minute I've spent at law school. My only emotion is bitterness. But having known several really decent young lawyers and having been around some of the real people who work here, sometimes helped to ease the pain. To those secretaries who were almost always cheerful toward me when I was almost always feeling rotten, I extend an inadequate apology. My best wishes are on all-day reserve for UM's librarians, whose professional talents are grossly underappreciated - I regret not having taken more time to understand the vast information network they've created. And finally, I send my thanks for a job well done to the Copy Center staff, without whom the Res Gestae publishing empire would be nowhere.

As for the liars, fakes, hustlers, big shots and sycophants that infest this place, they can all go to hell.

THE '74-'75 FILM SERIES

In selecting the films for the coming year, most inquiries lead the film committee to the conclusion that what a law student wants are films which are entertaining, rather than heavy and thought-provoking. Keeping this in mind, while at the same time trying to satisfy the students who prefer a drama, the following is a tentative schedule of films for next year:

Sept. 27 Klute, starring Jane Fonda and Donald Sutherland.
Oct. 11 The Big Sleep, starring Bogart, directed by Howard Hawks.
Nov. 8 On the Waterfront, starring Brando, directed by Elia Kazan.
Nov. 15 Charade, starring Cary Grant, Audrey Hepburn.
Jan. 17 Bullit, starring Steve McQueen.
Jan. 31 Monkey Business, starring the Marx Brothers.
March 28 My Little Chickadee, starring W.C. Fields and Mae West.
April 11 All the King's Men, starring Broderick Crawford.

The Film Committee would very much appreciate anyone with experience in running a 16mm projector, and who would like to help with showing the films, (call Rick Kaminsky at 764-9073 or leave a message at the Main Desk of the Lawyer's Club). It's only 12 evenings.

LSSS COMMITTEES

The following are newly appointed members of Senate committees.

PLACEMENT NEWS

Third-year Students who are still in the job-market - please leave your summer address with the Placement Office so that we can send you notices of openings that we hear about. We publish a bulletin with all current openings about twice each month.

First and Second-year Students - the Fall interviewing season will begin on September 16th. To save yourself the hassle next September, why not write your resume and have it reproduced this summer? We have a hand-out on resume preparation in our office, and will also leave a supply on the table outside Room 100.

As of April 30th, approximately 70% of the third year class have reported employment plans to the Placement Office. If you have not yet told us about your job - please come in or call.

Any suggestions or comments on our office are welcome. If you have ideas on improving the service, please let us know.

SUMMER LEGAL AID INTERNSHIPS

Summer internships, paying $1,000 each for ten-weeks' work, are being sponsored jointly by the Summer Legal Aid Program, an activity of the University of Michigan Legal Aid Society, Wayne State University Law School, University of Detroit Law School, and five legal aid clinics within the state. The clinics will hire one student each, with funds being contributed by the State Bar of Michigan (and the Law Schools).

The function of the Summer Legal Aid Program itself is simply to recruit funding and arrange for internships. All hiring, training, and work supervision will be conducted by the individual clinics themselves. The Summer Legal Aid Program thus does no screening, handles no applications, makes no recommendations, etc. Applicants should furnish a resume to the clinic(s) where they would like to work, with some notation as to why the applicant is interested in a legal aid position as such.

Addresses of the clinics are furnished below. Specific questions concerning individual clinics should be directed to the particular clinic, but general information is available from Fred Baldowsky, 668-6353. The Internships are available to students of the University of Michigan, University of Detroit, and Wayne State University Law Schools.

Participating Clinics:

BERRIEN COUNTY LEGAL SERVICES BUREAU
901 Port St.
St. Joseph, Michigan 49085
Edward M. Yampolsky, Director

LSD RESOLUTIONS

The Law Student Division of the American Bar Association will be holding its Annual Meeting in Chicago, Illinois, August 1-4, 1974. An integral part of this meeting is the presentation of resolutions concerning law student's positions on contemporary educational, political and social issues. The following "resolutions procedure" guidelines must be followed by students and schools submitting resolutions.

Completed resolutions should be mailed to the Law Student Division/ABA, 1155 East 60th St., Chicago, Illinois 60637.

- David W. Andich, Chairperson Resolutions Committee 1974 Law Student Division/ABA

Before submitting a resolution for the Law Student Division to act upon, please follow these guidelines.

A. A resolution may be considered only if:
1. The resolution of recommendation is accompanied by a written report;
2. The report contains a statement of the reasons for the resolutions;
3. The resolution or recommendation is set forth at the beginning of the report so as to distinguish the resolution or recommendation clearly from the report;
4. The report contains no language that commits the LSD or the ABA to a policy not set forth in the resolution or recommendation;
5. The report must show that it has been approved by the proponent authority;
6. In the case of a resolution or recommendation opposing or proposing specific legislation, the report includes a complete summary of the phase of legislation under consideration together with copies of the proposed bill or relevant excerpts from it; and
7. In the case of a resolution or recommendation calling for action that may result in expenditures, the amount needed is shown in the body of the report.
8. Resolutions and reports should be received by the Chicago office by July 1, 1974. Later resolutions and reports must be duplicated in quantities of 200 for distribution at the meeting. The cost of reproduction for late reports is to be paid by the submitting parties.

B. Reports should be submitted ready to be reproduced in quantity without need of retyping. The following instructions are for the typists guidance:
1. Allow a three inch margin at the top of the first page.
2. The body of the report must be single spaced.
3. The resolution or recommendation may be double spaced.
4. Number all pages.
5. Type the name of the proponent(s) at the end of the report.

LESS SPRINGS FOR BLUE BOOKS

The Law School Student Senate will provide free "blue books" for the forthcoming Winter, 1974, Law School final examinations. Books for each exam will be distributed at that exam by the exam monitors. 12 leaf/24 page books with white, ruled pages will be provided. There will be no limit on the number of free blue books each student may use in a particular exam. We only ask that you use only as many books as you need and that you not take any "clean" blue books from the exam rooms for your private use. We have allowed a large margin of error in our projection of book use, but our inventory is finite. Every book that you don't use means that we will be that much more certain of meeting demand towards the end of the exam period.

If you prefer some other style of blue book (such as those with yellow ruled pages), you may purchase them yourself and bring them to open-book exams. DO NOT BRING ANY BLUE BOOKS TO CLOSED-BOOK EXAMS OR EXAMS WHERE YOU ARE NOT ALLOWED TO USE YOUR OWN NOTES. You will be expected to use the standard books which will be supplied.

We apologize in advance for any inconvenience or irritations which the new blue book distribution system may cause. In particular, the lack of yellow-paged books is necessitated by cost and administrative factors. We will be using the blue book that the vast majority of law students seems to find most satisfactory.

This semester's blue book distribution system is experimental. The Senate will welcome your comments, both about the concept itself and about the particular way in which it is administered.

ABA-LSD POSITIONS

The Law Student Division liaison program to ABA sections and committees is the realization of one of the Division's major objectives on the national level. The objective is "to become involved with and participate fully in the direction and aims of the organized bar." It also fosters another of the objectives, that being the "promotion of professional responsibility."

Section and committee liaisons in most cases are participating members of the councils of sections and of standing or special committees of the Association. A council of a section is that section's governing body; the group responsible for the direction of the section in particular fields of law.

Section council members are attorneys who by their experience, expertise and activities are more often than not the top practitioners in that particular field or area of law. There are 23 sections within the ABA and the LSD has student liaisons of all of them.

A number of these liaison positions are now open for appointment. Those sections and committees having openings are: Bar Activities, Corporation, Banking and Business Law, Family Law, Individual Rights and Responsibilities, Insurance, Negligence and Compensation Law, International Law, Judicial Administration, Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar, Local Government Law, Patent Law, Real Property, Probate and Trust Law, Taxation, ABA Special Committee on Housing and Urban Development Law, ABA Standing Committee on Education About Communism, ABA Standing Committee on Legal Aid and Indigent Defendants, ABA Standing Committee on Legal Assistance for Servicemen, ABA Standing Committee on Professional Career Development, ABA Joint Committee on Principles Relating to the Legal Status of Prisoners, Advisory Board of America Bar Journal, Association Advisory Committee for Continuing Education of the Bar and the American Judicature Society.

Applications for these liaison positions are now being accepted. Law Student Division members interested in serving on a section or committee liaison should immediately send letters of application, along with resumes setting forth their student bar association activities, their Law Student Division activities, and any special areas of expertise in the field for which they are seeking appointment. Section membership is a prerequisite for section liaison appointments. Applicants should have at least one full academic year remaining after August, 1974. All letters of application and resumes for these appointments should be sent to the Law Student Division, American Bar Association, 1155 East 60th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60637 by May 6, 1974. Appointments will be made by the end of May. All persons seeking appointment should be able to attend the 1974 annual meeting in August in Chicago, Illinois.

BASEBALL POLL RE-RUN

The Res Gestae editors have decided to give all law students a chance to show their intelligence before finals begin. Therefore, everyone is being given another chance to enter the baseball poll again. Hopefully, everyone has gained some insight in the past three weeks that will allow a better prediction of the final result. Seniors are urged to enter and include an address to which their winnings can be forwarded. Incidentally, the prize is FIVE (5) dollars.

Place your entry blank in the box in front of room 100 by 5:00 Friday afternoon.
