JUSTICE TRAYNOR TO VISIT CAMPUS: U. of M. law students will have the opportunity to spend two days in informal discussion with one of the nation's most distinguished and scholarly jurists during the week following Spring Vacation. On Monday and Tuesday, March 22 and 23, Chief Justice Roger J. Traynor, of the California Supreme Court will visit the Law School as "Scholar in residence." Chief Justice Traynor was originally invited by John Gates, head of the Campbell Competition, to sit on the court judging the Campbell final arguments on Wednesday, March 24. He has agreed to come two days earlier to participate in the "Scholar in residence" program, sponsored by the Board of Directors. The schedule of the program will be posted.

United States Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart will be presiding at the Campbell finals. Judge Paul R. Hays, of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the second circuit, and a former professor of labor law will also be on the bench.

CREASE BALL PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY:

Preparations are under way for the social event which looms as the largest on the law school calendar, the annual Crease Ball. The holocaust this year will be held on Saturday, April 3, beginning at 9:00 and extending to sometime before dawn on Sunday. The entertainment committee is currently negotiating with several big-name bands including Glenn Miller, Lester Lanin and Mike Lynch. The choice will be announced shortly. The Homer and Jethro of Ann Arbor, Lee and Arnold, will provide sing along music in the Lounge. The Tennessee Mountain Boys String Quartet will complete the evening's entertainment with a half-time show.

Limited tickets will be available for advance sale and may be purchased from any Barrister up until a couple of days before the dance. Be sure and purchase your ticket early as the price of advance sale tickets is only $3.00 while they will be $4.00 at the door.

A word to freshmen who have never staggered through a Crease Ball weekend before: This dance promises to be real trouble, so plan ahead to make it. Don't figure on being able to study that night--the whole Quad will be up for grabs.

If there are any questions about the dance, see Mike Matthews. As a matter of fact, even if you don't have any questions, see Mike Matthews--he'll be glad to know that your mind is at ease.

FRESHMAN BRIEFS:

"The Quad's Pride, the Nation's Hope"

These are the times that try men's souls. Next Tuesday is Election Day at the Quad. However, the most deserving name will not be on the ballot. Off the campus, on a Far East assignment, this candidate didn't have a chance to circulate his petition. The task of placing this fighter for freedom on the crew of the ship of state must be left to the conscience of the individual voter. We urge each and every mother's son (or daughter) to write in the name of Frederick Ulysses Schmedlapp! That's right, write it in, in big bold freedom-loving letters!

Fred is the perfect candidate. He was born in a modest dwelling on Manhattan's Park Avenue. (It's not his fault we don't use logs anymore.) He has performed modest heroic feats--purposely. But Fred is more than just a man of purpose. He's "just folks." He cares. He cares about people, about principle, about feelings, about little girls picking daisies or licking ice cream cones around atomic testing grounds. But most of all he cares about people, about, well, winning.

Fred is the perfect candidate because he's going to win. And Fred is going to win because he's the perfect candidate, the most unforgettable character you will ever meet. An unforgettable smile. An unforgettable rugged face, rugged but not too rugged. An unforgettable accent--Mississippi courthouse. Unforgettable clothes--blue blazer, button-down collar, red stripe tie, green Levi's, and canary yellow knee-high Dingo boots. Fred is all things to all men. He stands for everything, because he recognizes that it takes courage to stand for everything, to be criticized by both sides on every issue, to play that delicate game called "consensus."
A martyr of the double meaning.

Remember next Tuesday. Write in Schmedlapp. You'll feel better for it. "Tip a few for Schmedlapp, too."

STUDENT ELECTIONS TO BE HELD:

Elections for the officers and directors of the Lawyers Club will be held this coming Tuesday, March 9, in Room 100 from 9 to 4. All law students are eligible to vote.

An unprecedented number of students have filed petitions for a place on the ballot. The following have been accepted by the Nominating Committee:

For the office of President: Robert Becker, Michael Harrison, William Herman, George Jenkins; for Vice-President: Kevin Beattie, Daniel Carpenter, J. Michael Kapp, Ken Oosterhouse, William Panzer; for Secretary: Jon Birge, John Nolan, Jerrell Rosenbluth; for Treasurer: John B. Griffith, Duane Ilvedson, Peter A. Pfaffenroth; for student member of the Board of Governors: Christopher E. Cohen, Miles Prentice, Eric F. Reif, Harlan E. Van Nye.

Unsuccessful candidates from the above plus the following have been accepted as candidates for the Board of Directors: Ed Bittle, Joe Boerner, Jon D. Carlson, Sally Katzen, John C. Landis, John F. Lynch, William Harz, David C. Miller Jr., Steve Petix, Sabin Phelps, Ron Preteklin, Gerry Skoning, Joel Strauss, John Walker, Jim Walter.

In the competition for offices, the candidate who receives a plurality will be declared the winner. Unsuccessful candidates for these five offices are then deemed to be candidates for the Board of Directors and the votes they received for an office will be counted as if cast for them for the Board of Directors.

Out of the augmented group of candidates for the Board of Directors, the two first-year candidates who receive the highest number of votes and the five remaining highest candidates are declared elected to the Board of Directors. Under the voting procedure, the voter may write in as a vote for the Board of Directors any name which does not appear as a candidate for the Board of Directors or any name of a candidate for office for whom the voter did not vote earlier.

FROM THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

The Board is looking for a first or second year student who would be interested in assuming the job of managing the Hutchins Hall Used-Book Store. Anyone interested in this post can get more information re duties, salary, etc., from Lou Potter (4-8965), this year's manager, or Mike Mathews (4-8917). To apply for the job, applicants should address a letter to the Board stating this fact and including any other relevant qualifications (i.e., accounting background, previous store management work, etc.)

The Board is also looking for a student interested in assuming the job of managing the Law Club Store—the Store in the basement of the Law Club building. Applicants should address a letter to the Board stating their interest and any other relevant qualifications.

Applications are due Friday, March 12.

The Board voted last Monday to purchase a new color TV for the Recreation Room in the basement of the Club's building. The set, which will be equipped to receive the UHF channel 50, will be installed this weekend.

LIBEL AND SLANDER:

If there is a forgotten man on this campus, he must surely be a law student. Somehow, Ann Arbor has survived the worst snow storm in years. On the main campus, the maintenance department was well on the way to digging out within 48 hours after the blizzard. But what about the Law Quad? As of yesterday, a full week later, we had yet to see a clear walk. The main campus was cleared and the plows put away. If any member of that dedicated crew who purport to keep the grounds in fit physical condition had a shovel with him, he was keeping his distance from the Law Quad. Consequently, we have had to depend on warm weather and melting rains to do the bulk of the work. And, with the thaw and the rains have come the floods. Where proper use of a shovel would provide a path for drainage, ankle deep puddles remain. The Board of Governors has slated our walks for replacement. But, in the meantime, we are at the mercy of the University's maintenance crews. Perhaps if somebody would keep a little fire lit under these go-getters.

MISCELLANEOUS:

Those persons invited to attend the Honors Banquet on March 11 are asked to pick up their tickets from Mrs. Steffy in Room 307.

It's time for a change. Rigor Mortis has begun to set in. Mediocrity shall not perpetuate itself. For these reasons and for many others (including optimistic anticipation regarding graduation) the editorship of the Res Gestae, Ann Arbor's leading Law School weekly is up for grabs. If interested, leave a note in our mailbox in 307 Hutchins or call 668-8277. If you're not interested, call Dean Smith, 764-7411, and explain why.

To date, the Lawyers Club athletic teams have won the Graduate Division Intramural Championships in Basketball and Table Tennis. The Volleyball and Paddleball championships will be decided in the next few weeks and our teams look good. However, the Club needs experienced Horseshoe pitchers to carry the day for us in that sport. If you are qualified, please contact Mike Lynch at 764-9054. Competition will be held in early April. The outcome of this event may well determine the winner of the All-Sports Championship in the Graduate Division so it is vital that our finest pitchers represent us.... Note from the Civil Rights Research Council: All applications for summer jobs must be turned to Joe McMahon, C-21, 4-8970, by Monday, March 8, at noon. All applicants will be notified before Spring recess, March 13, as to job assignments.

Michigan: "Dear Brigitte"

State: "Goldfinger"

QUADSVILLE QUOTES

My old master, the late Lord Justice Selwyn, used to say, "The main duty of a trustee is to commit judicious breaches of trust."

- Lindley, M.R.

This lawyers preparatory education is certainly one of the most cold blooded, prejudiced pieces of invention that ever a man was slave to... A fellow should do and think of nothing else. than LAW.

- Thackeray
